THE LADIES BANQUET.

Members of the Palmetto Club Celebrate the Tenth Anniversary of the Society's Formation.

The tenth anniversary of the Palmetto Club, was celebrated last evening at Iny Inn, in true style. The chief feature of the evening was the sumptuous banquet, which was served. Long before the appointed hour, handsomely gowned women were arriving, and the spacious rooms presented an animated scene.

The dining room was tastefully decorated in green and gold, and with many pieces of dainty china and silver. The menus were also gotten up in the club colors, and were exceedingly pretty.

After partaking of the sumptuous repast, toasts were in order. Mrs. Clara W. Raynor was toastmistress. The following toasts were rendered in a very creditable manner.

"The Palmetto Club, Its Origin,"—Mrs. Jane C. Weeks.

"The Past,"—Mrs. Mary M. Ruger.

"Our Symbol,"—Mrs. Gertrude Esch.

"The Present,"—Miss Amelia Potter.

"The Future,"—Mrs. Clara W. Raynor.

Poem—Mrs. Thuseinda A. Harris.

The menu was as follows:

"Sunshine caught in juices sweet."

"The cup that cheers, but not inebriates."

"Oh, a splendid soup is the celery green."

"A chicken whose tender breast reveals
Its tender youth full well;
And better still, a pea that peels
From fresh transparent shell."

"She put new yeast into his soul and made it rise again."

Evidence of Growth.

As an evidence that Daytona has forged ahead, both as a business and resort place, is shown by the fact of the marvelous growth of the business of the Florida East Coast Railway at this point. Wednesday a Daily News representative heard a conversation in which a well-known railroad man, who is posted, said: "In 1897 we had four men employed at the station, while today there are fourteen, and the business is forging ahead, and it is quite probable that we will have to still further increase the force." He also pointed out, with much pride, the increase in room made from time to time, both at the freighthouse and at the passenger station. The gentleman, who, by the way, is always looking out for the betterment of conditions, hopes to see other improvements of a more substantial nature ere long.

John H. Pope, a well-known citizen of Jacksonville is in the city on business.

They All Like It.

One end of a Telephone Conversation: "I did not get the Daily News Tuesday. Our family like it so well that we feel lonesome if we miss a number."

BUSINESS BEST KNOWN.

Merchants Pleased With the Result of the Holiday Trade—Exceeded
All Expectations.

A Daily News representative, in his rounds for news yesterday and today, interviewed quite a number of the leading business men of the city regarding the extent of the holiday trade. In every instance the business people expressed their opinion that the biggest business in their history has just been experienced. One or two firms particularly were of the opinion that there was more money in circulation this Christmas by far, and that the buying public purchased with much more ease than previously.

The large stocks carried by some of the stores were considerably cut down by the inroads made on them by Christmas shoppers, but Daytona merchants are entering and ready to supply the wants of the people, have placed large orders for winter and spring goods for early delivery.

A NUMBER ONE LIKES DAYTONA.

Writes About Daytona to a New York
Paper.—Speaks of the Climate and Fruits that Grow Here.

A No. 1, the world wide tramp, who is wintering in Daytona, and who is following his business, that of carving Irish potatoes, in a lengthy letter to the Oswego Farmer, of Cooperstown, N. Y., relating to tramp life and his world wide travel, concludes the letter by speaking of Daytona in the following terms.

"I am at present in Daytona, Florida, and will be here for quite a while. Palms, ferns, magnolias, oleanders and all semi-tropical trees are growing here profusely. Oranges, tangerines, grapefruit, guavas, coconuts, pineapples, etc., roses, violets, and other flowers, strawberries, lettuce and new potatoes, are growing here out of doors just like up your way in July. In fact, even mosquitos and flies are bothering a fellow same as in hottest summer up your way. Ice and snow, well I guess not, indeed people need ice cream soda to keep cool and go bathing in the Atlantic Ocean here every day, such nice weather prevails here. Millionaires come here and have their homes. Such people come here to spend the Northern winter, and I am here because I think this is the prettiest place in Uncle Sam's Dominion, to pass the time. While snow and ice are playing havoc up your way, don't you think I have reason to be happy? Go where I like, rest when I like, nobody to boss me, nor nobody to remind me that I am to do this or that. Life is too short not to get all the enjoyment you can out of it, so if I am not satisfied Mr. Editor, to be a tramp, don't think that I would exchange my freedom for gold or slavery."

The officers installed for the ensuing year were as follows:

Worshipful Master—C. S. Harris.
Senior Warden—W. G. Hobbs.
Junior Warden—W. H. Byne.
Treasurer—F. T. Peck.
Secretary—A. H. Carter.
Senior Deacon—A. A. Buck.
Junior Deacon—Grant Maloon.
Senior Steward—W. A. Gove.
Junior Steward—Carl Kost.
Tyler—W. H. Furr.

At the close a dainty collation was served.

CONDITION OF DAYTONA BEACH.

W. J. Morgan Says Race Course is in Finer Shape Than Ever Before.

W. J. Morgan, in an interview with the New York Tribune, states that after an examination of the famous Ormond-Daytona Beach in company with several friends, he has no hesitation in saying that the beach was never as fast as it is now, and that it is in record-breaking condition. A furious northeast gale visited the Florida coast recently, and not only widened the beach some thirty yards, but also carried away every bit of loose sand, leaving at least a hundred yards as level and as smooth as a billiard table. The swirling surf cut the bank of the beach as if it had been done by a spade; the same storm carried away fifty of the electric timing poles, which will have to be replaced, together with twenty miles of new double wire.

Asa Paine, the new president of the association, is on the ground and will have charge of the local end of the work of the tournament, meanwhile keeping in close touch with the association's New York representative. At a meeting of the association Mr. Morgan made a report of the progress of the tournament arrangements, and also met the local tournament committee, which will have full charge of the arrangements.

A Poem for Today

SONG

By Barry Cornwall

SUMMER river!
Why dost thou prolong
Through cold nights forever
Thy sad forest song?
Thou hast warm rich hours,
Wherein thou mayst pine
Underneath the flowers,
Which shall ne'er be thine.

Through them sing and run,
Where green branches quiver;
But when day is done,
Sleep, sweet summer river.

RUBIES

By Walter Savage Landor

FTEN I have heard it said
That her lips are ruby red,
Little heed I what they say,
I have seen as red as they.
Ere she smiled on other men
Real rubies were they then.

When she kissed me once in play,
Rubies were less bright than they,
And less bright were those which shone
In the palace of the sun.
Will they be as bright again?
Not if kissed by other men.
